A. GUIDELINES FOR INTERPRETING THE REPORT

The teacher evaluation report is for developmental purposes and is meant to help identify strengths and areas for improvement. Please consider the following recommendations that will aid in interpreting the results:

1. Examine the report by taking note of patterns in order to consider how best to act on the feedback your students have taken the time to provide. Use the reflection section at the end to reflect upon how you might act on the feedback.
2. These evaluations stem from student perception and thus constitute one source of evidence among others as to the quality of your teaching. Any response to the feedback should be based on the most representative results rather than on outlying responses.
3. Upon getting a general sense as to what has gone well, and which areas may require attention and improvement, it is important to drill down to the related questions. These questions can help guide future action if feedback from students suggest areas for improvement.
4. Keep both the likert scale and written comments in mind while reading through the report. High scores (4+) suggest student consensus indicating a strength. On the other hand, low scores (2-) should be considered as an area that requires immediate developmental focus based on student feedback.

D. STRENGTHS

What are Leong Wing Lup, Ben's strengths?

Comments
Being candid with feedback
Covers the necessary content required for the course in an effective manner.
encouraging and attentive
Able to spark interest in the subject
Honesty
Come up with interesting ideas that pushes us to be more creative in solving problems.
Interesting and funny
makes interesting question
Very interesting curriculum design and introduction of concepts in course materials.
Kind, cheerful , fair and patient prof
Very knowledgeable about a lot of stuff and q humorous at times so lectures would not feel tiring to sit through Brings key concepts to life, no matter how basic. Infuses a genuine passion for the field into every lecture. Balances and integrates the micro (individual concepts, tasks, etc.) and macro (applications, extensions, etc.) aspects of the discipline. Inspires his students; preserves students' sense of wonder.
Very creative and interesting. Engaging way of teaching as well.
Creative thinking
Passion,Creativity, Intelligence, Teaching ability
Charisma, humour and vast knowledge on the subject.
Great student rapport, because of his ability to relate to students well. Also, because of his experience in the subject, he teaches it very in depth.
Good humor
He is very passionate about the subject that he teaches. He also does provide challenges for the students to think and apply what they have learnt to challenging situations in a step by step progression.
He never fails to use creative approaches to get us to think.
Able to explain things clearly
Patient and helpful, putting a lot of effort into motivating students
Setting hard questions to expose students on application type of questions
He's realistic about things. I liked that he emphasised that we should bolster our strengths rather than focus on our weaknesses for our time in NUS. This is practical advice.
Great teaching methodology, forces student to fully understand the concepts by designing problems that tests for a deep understanding of the concept instead of something that can be memorised. Will provide feedback and push you to work harder
Making students think critically and allowing stronger students to express themselves.
He is well-versed in the subject that he teaches and he can engage the class well
Ability to explain difficult contents clearly
Prof Ben keeps things real, and does not mince his words. I appreciate that he challenges his students and cares personally for them.
Very straightforward. Lively and fun
He has great systematic thinking and to convey his thinking process to his students

E. AREAS FOR IMPROVEMENT

What improvements would you suggest to Leong Wing Lup, Ben?

Comments
He can make his recorded video lectures more engaging like his real-life lessons by setting an enthusiastic tone, cracking jokes etc. Sometimes, he can also cover the concept in-depth by going through every minute detail so as to enhance the understanding of some students with different learning styles.
nil
Sensitivity
Some key ideas that he might think are basic are brushed by too quickly.
very good
Be more proactive in answering students queries and not dismissing questions. Go through higher order thinking skills in class and not let students only learn tough concepts in past year papers.
Nil
Keep the creativity but balance it such that the tasks would not be too demoralising
NIL
Having a bit more student interactions, especially to those who require more assistance to learning the subject.
Nil
Nil
SLOW DOWN we need time to process your code especially for the weaker students :)
Set less hard questions for exams...demoralising when u fail even though you studied so hard.
Can't think of anything actionable.
Be less brutal
Empathize more with weaker students.
Sometimes his pace is too fast
Be more patient and take more care of those slow learner
Slow down during lessons
He at times is too forward with his statements and remarks.

F. SELF-REFLECTION

1. When comparing these results to the previous year's results, what areas have shown improvement?
2. What areas remain to be improved and what are the necessary steps / actions to do so?
3. Are there colleagues who could potentially guide me?
4. Are there issues that require departmental or institutional support?
