Dear Prof. Wong,

Do you have any PhD student who is looking for job? I am looking for a postdoctoral research to develop the bioinformatics software to design oligonucleotides for high-throughput gene or genome syntheses using Agilent DNA microarray. The job scope is attached for your reference. Please kindly distribute this job opening to your students.

Postdoctoral Fellow/ Research Scientist (Bioinformatics) Reference No. IBN240609/R/MH

Responsibilities

- Work with a multidisciplinary team of engineers and scientists to develop bioinformatics software for in situ gene and protein syntheses

Requirements

- Applicants should have a PhD degree in Computer Science or relevant discipline with a strong experience in Bioinformatics
- Skilled in Java, C++, and Internet programming
- Hands-on experience in engineering protein design and expression preferred
