The Non-Graduating Non-Exchange Programme (NGNE) is a programme designed for final year students to get a taste of a different education system by immersing themselves in one of the world leading universities.

In general, students will spend one semester (or two in some cases) in NUS attending classes and working on a research project under the supervision of a School of Computing (SOC) academic staff, while experiencing the life of a typical SOC undergraduate with the opportunity to enjoy special computing and education resources offered by SOC.

NGNE is a favourable platform if you wish to apply to the SOC Graduate Programme, as students who meet the stated requirements in this programme may be considered for early admission into the Master of Computing (MComp) programme. Students who perform exceptionally well will also stand a chance to be offered to the SOC PhD programme.

MComp admission

Students who would like to be considered for early admission into MComp must complete CP3106 and obtain at least grade A- or above.

Working with an advisor

Each student will work with a professor as their advisor on a topic. Professors have different working styles. Some professors will propose a project to the student, while some would prefer students to work out the project scopes. In general, students can try to read and identify “gaps” in current research (i.e. missing link, interesting work that has not been done, or interesting problems not known beforehand) through extensive readings of literature to form a big picture on what can be done further.

Workload

Each week, students should spend around 4 days on the project.

Students should meet (either online or face-to-face if allowed) and discuss with the advisor for at least an hour each week.

I think the NGNE programme is very helpful. I have experienced the educational environment in a different country. It is very difficult to know what to do at first, for example, I do not know what tutorials are, but gradually I can get used to it. Besides, my supervisor is very nice. She and her students gave me many suggestions on my project. The weekly meeting helps me to correct my mistakes during my research. The coronavirus causes a lot of trouble at the end of the programme, for example, it is difficult to return to China. However, the NUS and NGNE programme staff provide us a lot of assistance during such hard times. Therefore, I think it is very wonderful.

I would like to thank NUS SOC for giving me the opportunity to attend the NGNE programme. Although it was difficult to adapt to the workload at first, I did feel that my professional skills and psychological ability have both improved a lot in the end because of the top-class learning experience and the excellent academic resources provided here. Since I participate in the NGNE programme, I've always had an idea about joining the MComp programme, and regard it as a goal. The experience and gains of this semester strengthen my idea even more. I will always be thankful for this experience and all the help from teachers, staff and classmates.

My supervisor was Prof Leong and we worked on a project about dynamic decision making and reinforcement learning on a robot simulation platform. It aims to design a high-level language which allows the users to specify their problem and automatically build a mathematical model and then solve the problem. The topic is very abstract for me at the beginning, but with the guidance of Prof Leong, I successfully understood its meaning, realized the target interface and applied RL algorithms onto the target platform.

Prof Leong and everyone in her group are very nice! We arranged group meetings every week, in which we shared the papers we read recently, the progress of our projects and new research results with each other. These experiences helped me improve my research ability and I have to say thank you to everyone!

Since this is a special period, it's difficult to return to my home country, so I applied to Prof Leong for an internship this summer and she agreed. It's very happy to have more time with the group and do some related research work here.

I have had a wonderful time with Professor Teo, and I would like to express my sincere appreciation to him. From the determination of the project theme, to the daily research and study, and finally to the revision of the report, Prof Teo took countless time to give me careful guidance and continued support from all aspects. Professor Teo's rigorous attitude in scientific research deeply affected me, which I think I will enjoy the benefit all my life.
